Office Action Summary

Art Unit: 3729

Claim 53 recites the limitation "relative to the wiring device" in the third line thereof.

There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 40-43, 46-47, 49, 51, 53, 62-67, 79 and 80 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 96/07984 by Mundigl et al hereinafter '984. The '984 teaches a process of making a smart card module for a contact less smart card wherein wire is placed onto a substrate so as to form a coil and the ends of the wire are connected to a chip. It would have been obvious to connect the wires to the chip by means of a connecting instrument if indeed the '984 does not expressly teach the same inasmuch as this would be the expedient and quickest way to do this step. As applied to Claims 41, 42, 51, 62, 66 and 67, it is held that the use of an ultrasonic means to as Applicant advance no purpose therefore nor provide any problem which is solved. Moreover the limitation of using ultrasonic means to bond wires onto a substrate such as applicants recite is known in this art and hence is held to have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.

Claims 44, 45, 48, 50, 52, 54-61, 81 and 82 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim 78 is held to be allowable.

It appears that one of Applicants' foreign priority documents viz. German Pat. No. 196 04 840.0 with a date of February 12, 1996 may precede the teaching used for this rejection. Applicants again are requested to finish an English translation of this document to ascertain the content therefore.

Applicants' Amendment filed June 6, 2000 has been carefully considered however it has not effected any change on the Examiner's original determination of patentability of claims 40-43, 46, 47, 49, 50, 53, 62-67. Moreover claims 79 and 80 also are held to lack patentable subject matter. Although applicants urge that Claims 40 and new claim 79 set forth a specific order for the process of the present invention this is not clearly recited in these claims. Even assuming claims 40 and 79 set forth a specific order for the steps (or ^{phases} ~~phases~~) of the method nevertheless it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in this art at the time this application was filed to connect the wires ends the chip.
